

Quotes Part 1

Never give up on anybody. Miracles happen every day.

Life is slippery. We all need a loving hand to hold onto.

Approach cooking with reckless abandon,

Remember that not getting what you want is sometimes a wonderful stroke of luck.

Learn the rules, so you know how to break them properly.

Sometimes the heart sees what is invisible to the eyes.

Be tough minded but tenderhearted.

People take different roads seeking fulfillment and happiness. Just because they're not on your road doesn't mean they've gotten lost.

Your religion is what you do when the sermon is over.

Our character is what we do when we think no one is looking.

I've learned that children and grandparents are natural allies.

I've learned that even when I have pains, I don't have to be a pain,

I've learned that nothing really bad happens when you tear off those little "do not remove" tags from pillows.

I've learned that eating chocolate won't solve your problems, but it doesn't hurt anything either.

Quotes Part 2

Growing old is easy. The hard part is growing up.

Youth is a gift of nature. Age is a work of art.

There's a lesson to be learned from the weather. Despite constant criticism, it keeps doing its own thing.

Doctors say if you eat slowly you will eat less. Anybody raised in a large family will tell you the same thing.

Among the most difficult of social graces is silent soup eating.

When young, you adjust your hair to the existing hairstyles. When old, you adjust your hairstyle to the existing hair.

If you don't stand for something, you'll fall for anything.

Nostalgia. Life in the past lane.

If you really want the last word in an argument, try saying "You're absolutely right."

The hours that make us happy, make us wise.

There's no astute advice that applies to everyone other than to put the shower curtain INSIDE the tub.

Friendship consists of forgetting what one gives and remembering what one receives.

Where the heart is willing it will find a thousand ways, but where it is unwilling it will find a thousand excuses.

Failure is success if we learn from it.

Admitting mistakes is Not a fault... failing to correct them is.

It takes a long time to grow an old friend.

Some people have the right aim in life, but they never pull the trigger.

The modern youth would rather follow in his dad's tire tracks than in his footsteps.

If you have a hill to climb, waiting won't make it smaller.

Why is it called baby-sitting when all you do is run after them?

The easiest way to have you family tree traced is to run for public office.

The trouble with being put in your place is that it's not the place you think you belong.

Winter isn't so bad if kept at a proper distance say about 1,500 miles.

A child is a person who envies his grandparents for having been able to study history when there was 50 years less of it.

You can preach a better sermon with your life than with your lips.

To pick fruit, you have to go out on a limb.

Blunt words often have sharp edges.

Just about the time you think you can make both ends meet, somebody moves the ends.

Spread happiness where you go, not when.

If you ask a question, you're a fool for a minute. If you don't ask a question, you're a fool for life.

Nothing arrives more slowly but passes more quickly than a vacation.

There are hundreds of languages in this world, but a smile speaks all of them.

A goal in marriage is not to think alike, but to think together.

Learn to laugh at yourself. You'll have a lifelong source of amusement.

Tact is the ability to hold your tongue until it's under control.

What sunshine is to flowers, smiles are to humanity.

The rooster crowed before daylight because his cluck was fast.

Most rules of success won't work unless you do.

Laughter translates into any language.

An ounce of keeping your mouth shut sure beats a ton of explanation.

Not only is a woman's work never done, but the definition keeps Changing.

Diet: a plan for putting off tomorrow what you put on today.

Closets are places where people hang things when they run out of door knobs.

Sometimes I wake up grumpy: other times let her sleep.

Pete Seeger

This song is copyrighted for a period of 28 years, and anybody caught singin' it without our permission, will be a mighty good friend of ours, 'cause we don't give a darn Publish it. Write it. Sing it. Swing to it. Yodel it. We wrote it, that's all we wanted to do.

We have a nation of overweight people because our main exercise is to move from one seat to the other. From a chair to a car to a desk to a subway seat to a couch in front of the television, to a chair to eat. Singing used to be part of everyday life Women sang while pounding corn Men sang while they were paddling canoes.

"I've often thought, standing onstage with 1,000 people in front of me, that somebody over on my right had a great-great grandfather who was trying to kill the great-great grandfather of somebody off to my left. And here we are all singing together. And wouldn't it surprise all those great-grandfathers if they could see their great-grandchildren singing together? They'd probably say, "Why did we fight so hard? Good question! We all go to different churches or no churches. We have different favorite foods, different ways of making love, different ways of doing all sorts of things, but there we're all singing together. Gives you hope".

Bob Hope

There were so many in my family I was eight years old before it was my turn in the bathroom. In all there were seven brothers. That's how I learned to dance... waiting for my turn in the bathroom. We had the only bathroom in the neighborhood with a revolving door.

I wore hand-me-downs all my life. By the time the trousers got to me, they were so worn that I could sit on a dime and tell you if it was heads or tails. And by the time my younger brother got them, he could do the same thing sitting on a dollar bill. The seat of the trousers got so shiny, we'd hang them on the bedpost and they'd double as a night-light.

H. Jackson Brown Jr.

I've learned that you can't hide a piece of broccoli in a glass of milk.

I've learned that the size of your biceps has very little to do with your success after highschool.

I've learned that if you laugh and drink soda pop at the same time, it will come out your nose.

I've learned that wherever I go, the world's worst drivers have followed me there.

I've learned that there are 4 ages of man: 1) when he believes in Santa Claus, 2) when he doesn't believe in Santa Clause, 3) when he IS Santa Claus, and 4) when he Looks like Santa Claus

I've learned that when my daddy kisses me in the morning, he smells like a piece of Jolly Rancher candy.

I've learned that expensive silk ties are the only ones that attract spaghetti sauce.

I've learned that I don't make many mistakes when my mouth is shut.

I've learned that you can tell a lot about a man by the way he handles 3 things a rainy holiday, lost luggage, and tangled Christmas tree lights.

I've learned that if you're riding in a pickup with 2 other people, you should either drive, or sit in the middle, because the person riding shotgun has to get out and open and close all the gates.

I've learned that you shouldn't confuse a black crayon with a Tootsie Roll.

I've learned that if chewing gum has been dropped on the sidewalk within the last 48 hours, my shoes will find it.

Twenty years from now you will be more disappointed by the things that you didn't do than by the ones you did do. So, throw off the bowlines. Sail away from the safe harbor. Catch the trade winds in your sails. Explore. Dream. Discover.

Don't say you don't have enough time. You have exactly the same number of hours per day that were given to Helen Keller, Pasteur, Michelangelo, Mother Teresa, Leonardo da Vinci, Thomas Jefferson, and Albert Einstein.

Every person that you meet knows something you don't; learn from them Life doesn't require that we be the best, only that we try our best.

You know that your husband still loves you when there are two brownies left and he takes the smaller one.